FARM CREDITS BILL KEEPS SENATE BUSY

One Amendment Adopted Permits War Finance Corporation to Aid Associations.

VOTE STANDS 43 TO 22

Favorable Action Is Taken on Plan to Take Up $100,000,-000 Loan Bonds.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 .- Disposal of adments to the Agricultural Credits bill was begun by the Senate to-day, but a vote on passage of the measure, which is framed by the Administration as a substitute for the original Norris bill, went over.

Two of a score of pending amendments vere adopted after a hard fight, one, offered by Senator Smith, Democrat offered by Senator Smith, Democrat (S. C.), would authorize loans by the War Finance Corporation to associations of agricultural producers, and the other, offered by Senator Harrison, Democrat (Miss.), would authorize the corporation to take up $100,000,000 in bonos of the Federal Farm Loan system.

The Smith amendment was contested hotly, Senators Harrison and Williams, both Democrats of Mississippi; La Follette, Republican (Wis.) and Ashurst. Democrat (Ariz.), led the opposition and fought for direct loans to individual producers. The amendment was adopted.

3 to 22, with party lines divided. Senators Smith, Lenroot, Republican (Wis.); Smoot, Republican (Uiah), and Simmons, Democrat (N. C.), championed the Smith amendment. Individual loans to all of the farmers of all of the States, they declared, would "break down" the proposed legislation.

to all of the farmers of all of the States, they declared, would "break down" the proposed legislation. Senator Smoot said individual loans would require the War Finance Corporation to have 250,000 employees for investigations. That the direct, individual loan plan was "impracticable, unworkable and preposterous" was asserted by Senator Simmons. Senator Lenroot said that the original Norris bill did not contemplate direct loans to individual farmers.

That the amendment would "get the farmer out of the bill altogether" was asserted by Senator La Follette, who said it would give benefits principally to "parasites who prey on the farmer." Banks and trust companies would be the principal beneficiaries, he added. Senator Ashurst said the farmers would be "torpdeced" and relief given mainly to "banks gorged with improvident loans."

"banks gorged with improvident loans."

The Harrison amendment was adopted without a record vote or particular opposition. Senator Harrison said the Farm Loan Fund had applications for loans aggregating $150,000,000 and only $15,000,000 available for them, due to inability to market bonds.

oso,000 available for them, due to inability to market bonds.

Senator Norris's part in initiating the legislation was praised by several Senators during the debate. Senator Kenyon. Republican, Iowa, said he had started the agricultural credits legislation and worked while other Senators "were pursuing the festive golf ball." Senator Ashurst and Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, also praised Mr. Norris, who is on a sick bed after a collapse during the fight for the legislation.

Senator Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, offered an amendment, which went over until to-morrow, to amend the farm loan law so as to permit loans to entrymen on Government reclamation projects, a proposal similar to those pending by Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho, and Ashurst.

Unless the Public Service Electric Company cancels the 25 per cent. surcharge and modifies the coal charge now added on the bills of the wholesale power users in New Jersey, the Crucible Steel Company of America, one of the largest manufacturing concerns in the State, will consider moving its plant out of New Jersey. Edward T. Moore, a consulting expert, told the New Jersey Utility Commission here to-day that he had so advised the officers of the company.
